

Volunteer at the JFK Library and Museum

The John F. Kennedy Presidential Library & Museum is looking for enthusiastic individuals interested in history and working with the public to join the docent program. The Kennedy Presidential Library seeks to promote, through educational and community programs, a greater appreciation and understanding of American politics, history, and culture, the process of governing, and the importance of public service. Docents facilitate museum learning for students, families and adults. Duties may include conducting highlights tours, giving informal gallery talks and engaging visitors of all ages in hands-on activities. Training is provided (meets weekly September – November). Weekend and weekday shifts are available. Benefits include free parking, a museum store discount, free or discounted admission to New England Museums, and the opportunity to meet others interested in history and museums.

Contact Katherine Farrior at 617-514-1545 or Katherine.farrior@nara.gov for more information or find the application at jfklibrary.org under General Information / Jobs, Internships and Volunteers. The application deadline is August 15, 2010.
